The Future World of Work:
Creating and shaping a desirable workplace of the future

intelligentethics.com

What will the Future World of Work look, sound and feel like, given the pace of AI and other new technologies?

What are the critical skills, competencies and mindsets needed in the future workplace?

We can help you with:

- Inspiring curiosity and educating your people on the future world of work through the design and expert delivery of values-based training on the impact of technology as a force for good
- Creating a safe climate for individuals to be re-skilled and equipped on the application of new values-based AI skills and tools
- Empowering and building confidence to create a trusted digital business that values core behaviours such as use of judgment, wisdom, relationship-building, agility, and compassion
- Fostering dialogue and engagement on the future world of work where ethical principles and purpose are placed at the heart of the debate and optimise the ability to do the right thing
